MARRIED MANY MONTHS AGO.

A. J. Winebrake and Miss Louise S. Masters Were Wedded Quietly.

Announcement is now made of the marriage on September 14, 1896, of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Masters, of Dunmore, to A. J. Winebrake, of this city. The marriage was quietly arranged, the young people going to Camden, N. J., without saying anything as to their intentions and were married by Rev. W. H. Burrill, of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Winebrake did not appreciate the latter's parents of the marriage until last December. Mr. Winebrake is well known about the city. He was employed at one time as treasurer of the Academy of Music and is at present a student at the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia. The college closed two weeks ago until fall and Mr. Winebrake is now in Dr. Longstreet's office in this city.

Notice. We are still doing business at the same old stand where we have been for twenty-two years past and most respectfully solicit the patronage of the public as heretofore in awnings, tents, flags and all kinds of society goods and decorations.

NEW ASSESSMENT IS INVALIDATED

Judge Archbald Declares Against the Board of Revision and Appeals.

AN UNCONSTITUTIONAL CLAUSE

In the Suit of Joseph J. Jermyn Against the City Assessors and Others, It is Decided That the Legislature Exceeded Its Powers When It Essayed to Delegate to Boards of Revision and Appeals Authority, Which the Constitution Invests in the Legislature Alone.

By the decision of Judge Archbald, the new city assessment made under the precept of the board of revision and appeals is null and void.

In a lengthy opinion handed down yesterday morning he declared an unconstitutional that portion of the act of 1895 empowering boards of revision and appeal to order a new assessment in years other than the triennial year, holding that the exercise of such a legislative function, which can not under the constitution be delegated.

After reviewing the law of 1888 governing cities of the third class and its modification the act of 1895, wherein they bear on the matter in hand, he goes on to point out the viciousness and unconstitutionality of leaving to the judgment of a quorum of a board of appeals in the several cities the question as to when the legislative function of fixing a time for an assessment shall be exercised. Then he says:

The only requirement is that the board of revision shall submit a re-assessment necessary. But upon what basis that necessity is to be considered to have arisen, or by what it is to be determined when it leaves the legislative branch of the government, and that nothing must be submitted to the judgment of the electors or other appointees of the legislature except an opinion to become or not become subject to requirements and penalties.

"The one thing lacking is the criterion by which the necessity for a new assessment is to be judged; this is vital and should appear by the law itself.

The legislature does not say that under such and such circumstances, if the board of revision deem it necessary, a new assessment may be ordered, but that upon the mere say so of the board, without other let or hindrance, this may be done.

"It is idle to say that the discretion of the board is sufficient criterion; it is easy to show that it is not. One board may consider it advisable to have a new assessment because the original does not yield all the taxes they think the city ought to have, an effective way of extending the tax limit. Another may be dissatisfied in whole or in part with the work of former board, although its work is entitled to just as much credit as their own.

Still another may be moved by no better reason than their themselves something to do, a motive not impossible to get into the minds of some. While the re-assessment of a special piece of property may be ordered even without the assent of the party who owned it, by no means a strained supposition if the owner happens to be a corporation."

PARTIES TO THE ACTION.

The attack on the assessment was made by Joseph J. Jermyn, through Attorneys Ira H. Burns and George E. Hand. Mr. Jermyn's property in the Eighth ward under the triennial assessment was assessed at $11,000. He filed a bill of complaint alleging that the new assessment was unconstitutional on the grounds upon which the decision is based. City Solicitor Torrey entered a demurrer and at the last term of argument court the hearing on the demurrer took place. Judge Archbald not only overrules the demurrer, but concludes that there is no occasion to allow the defendant to make further action.

The case will in all probability go to the Supreme court. City Solicitor Torrey will submit the matter to councils for instructions as to further procedure. As the decision affects each of the twenty-four third-class cities of the state alike, it is quite possible that councils will take it to be their duty to carry the matter to the highest tribunal of the state. Members of councils who have spoken on the matter yesterday said they were by all means in favor of carrying the case to the Supreme court. It is a matter of such grave importance they feel that it should receive the full test of law.

MR. BURNS' OPINION.

Mr. Burns when seen yesterday afternoon at his office in the Mears building declared himself to be pleased, but not at all surprised at the decision. "A lawyer cannot always see the other side of a case," he said, "but in this particular case I am satisfied that the Supreme court cannot do otherwise than support Judge Archbald's finding. The clause of the law in question is so clearly unconstitutional as to admit of no possibility of the local finding being reversed. No subordinate body of the stripe of a board of revision and appeals can be given power to think for the legislature, and that is just what the legislative essays to delegate to them when it says the triennial assessment an institution of sixty years' standing shall be retained, but if you don't like it fix it up somehow to suit yourselves.

"The triennial assessment was established for the main purpose of giving property, land particularly, stretched periods of rest from the valuation. A tax valuation is placed on lands through-out the entire commonwealth every three years. Once it is assessed the owner knows what taxes he will be required to pay until the next triennial year and is assured that he will not be called upon every year to wrestle with the board of appeals over his assessment. This new modification of the law would totally defeat the aim and purpose of the enactment bearing on the triennial assessment and destroy the uniformity which it seeks to establish.

SHOULD BE THE SAME.

"The period of rest from land tax valuation should be the same all over. The man in Dunmore is as much entitled to the certainty that his tax valuation will not be changed as the man in Abington. If Scranton and Carbondale can have an assessment whenever it feels like it there is little possibility of uniformity being maintained."

The decision will have the effect of

WILL WEAR LEGGINGS.

Thirteenth Regiment Boys Do Not Like Them, but at the Command of Gen. Snowden Will Put Them On.

The line officers of the Thirteenth regiment met last evening in the armory and received the following order from Colonel Courson bearing upon the trip of the regiment to Philadelphia next Friday. The order reads: Headquarters Thirteenth Regiment Infantry, Third Brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania.

Regimental order No. 14.

I. In accordance with general order No. 2, Headquarters division, National Guard of Pennsylvania, dated Philadelphia, May 4, 1897, this regiment will participate in the parade at Philadelphia on Saturday, May 15th, in connection with the unveiling of the Washington monument at Fairmount park.

II. The field and staff, non-commissioned staff, drum corps and Companies A, B, C and D will assemble at the Thirteenth Regiment armory, Scranton, Pa., on the 14th inst., at 2:45 p. m. Assembly will be sounded at 2:50 p. m.; adjutant's call at 3:10 p. m. Officers personal baggage must be at the armory not later than 3:00 p. m.

III. Companies E, F, G and H will report to Major George H. Whitney at the Delaware and Hudson passenger depot, Scranton, at 3:50 p. m.

IV. Company commanders will pay special attention to paragraphs 6, 9, 10 and 13 of general order No. 3 above referred to. Each officer and man will be allowed one dollar and a quarter for subsistence.

V. Morning reports will be required on the train Friday afternoon, and in quarters at seven o'clock Saturday morning. As soon as the train leaves Scranton, company commanders will have guards posted at each end of their respective cars and will issue no passes except to non-commissioned officers in the discharge of necessary duties.

By order of Colonel Henry A. Courson. Lt. J. Mattie, Adjutant.

Colonel Courson is in Philadelphia looking over the field of encampment. The Thirteenth regiment will be quartered in the First regiment's armory, corner of Broad and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia. In regard to the wearing of leggings over which there has been so much talk—the regiment will wear them. Some time, perhaps, said one of the Thirteenth's officers last night in talking guardedly about the matter, the order of General Snowden will be discussed in the proper way. Snowden will have the leggings ready at Philadelphia. Bauer's band will accompany the regiment.

DELEGATES SELECTED.

They Will Represent the Primitive Methodist State Conference at General Conference.

A good deal of important business was transacted by the Primitive Methodist State conference yesterday. Ministerial and city delegates to the general conference at Fall River, Mass., were chosen.

Yesterday morning's session was of a secret nature. The claim of Mrs. Ball, of Olyphant, who lent money to a conference book concern, was satisfactorily settled. The investigation of ministerial character was also made at this session. Letters of sympathy were ordered sent to Rev. Charles McKeebles and Rev. B. Whitlock, who are on the superannuated list.

In the afternoon the appropriation committee reported in reference to Youngstown, Ohio, Carnegie and Homestead, Pa. The Youngstown report was held over until the report of the stationing committee had been read. Carnegie and Homestead circuit was appropriated $150, provided they erect a new church at North Homestead.

A society under the care of the conference known as the Grand Roll of Honor, sent its report through its grand worthy captain. The report was accepted and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The following were nominated as representatives to the general conference: Rev. T. M. Bateman, Girardville; Rev. George Lees, Hazleton; Rev. R. W. Wilson, Nanticoke; Rev. E. J. Jeffries, Youngstown, O.; Rev. J. Bath, Plymouth; Rev. H. G. Russell, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. W. F. Nichols, Tamaqua; Rev. J. Jones, Avoca; Rev. J. H. Tyler, Niles, O.; Rev. H. J. Buckingham, New Castle; Rev. T. C. Bache, Nanticoke.

Rev. J. N. Reseigh and Rev. J. Walker were appointed tellers and the balloting resulted as follows: Rev. T. M. Bateman, 25; Rev. George Lees, 21; Rev. R. W. Wilson, 22; Rev. E. J. Jeffries, 24; Rev. J. Bath, 31. They were declared elected, having received more than 22, the number necessary to a choice. After three more ballots the sixth man, Rev. H. G. Russell, was chosen.

Nominations were then in order for the lay delegates to the general conference. The following were named: Aaron Powell, Scranton, C. S. Snyder, Priceburg; Adam Clark, Avoca; W. J. Hooper, Plymouth; E. D. Williams, Nanticoke, and F. W. Blacker, St. Clair. They were unanimously chosen.

The committee on revision of discipline submitted a report which was held over. Adjournment was taken after which the conference went into secret session to entertain the report of the committee on complaints and appeals. Hon. Robert Dudley occupied the chair.

Lawrence Rev. T. C. Bache, of Nanticoke, preached to a large audience, and his remarks on general topics were favorably received.
